

GOVERNMENT CONTINUES SHIPPING AMMUNITION TO CAMP SAM HOUSTON, TEX.

Hurried Movement of Troops is Expected as Government is Holding Sleepers, Coaches and Stock Cars in Yard

FIRST REAL MANEUVERS ARE TAKING PLACE TODAY

Aviators in Wright Flier Have Been Ordered to Begin Scout Duty---Measles and Mumps Have Broken Out Among Recruits---U. S. Dispute With Mexico Over Arrest of Americans.

San Antonio, March 16.—Despite the "maneuvers only" members of the Third field artillery say they have orders to pack all necessary impedimenta and be prepared to take the field in light marching order.

San Antonio, Texas, March 16.—Great quantities of ammunition continue to arrive in San Antonio and already nearly a score of cars of ordnance supplies have been moved into a secluded corner of the Southern Pacific yards. Government officials show no anxiety over orders to hold the cars loaded for movement to some point not yet indicated. It is understood the cars contain ammunition for both field artillery and infantry in sufficient quantities to supply an invading force.

It is now definitely determined that the tourists sleepers and four coaches and four hundred gondolas and stock cars, with sufficient motive power, will be held in the yards here.

Officials refuse to say whether the government is paying demurrage charges on the cars, but indicate that such is the case. This being true, officers say the war department must anticipate a hurried movement of troops or it would forfeit the cars and save demurrage. The full division mobilized there is being recruited to war strength, 19,850, as rapidly as possible. It already numbers more than 14,000, of whom 2,000 are recruits. Other recruits arriving hourly are being assigned to regiments and drilled six hours a day.

The first real maneuvers took place today when the regiment of artillery, cavalry and infantry was ordered into covered country in the vicinity of the camp where the troops will take positions as well hidden as possible. Lieutenants Foulis and Phil, Parmelee, a Wright aviator, are ordered out on scout duty with instructions to find the massed force and return as soon as possible with a complete report as to numbers, location of equipment, position of guns and the most vulnerable spot for an attack.

The troops will scatter into squadron formations over a big portion of the ground and make the work of the aviators as hard as possible to give the aerial scouts a severe test. Several cases of measles and mumps have developed among recruits rushed here. The men, however, are examined before being assigned to regiments and sent to the quarantine field hospital before the disease can spread. A large force of electricians is engaged in stringing wires for arc lights through a part of the railroad yards so that troops may entrain with animals at night should a hurried order be received. This is done by command of General Carter, indicating a desire to be prepared for any eventuality.

Washington, March 16.—A question of the ownership of the land where they were arrested, added a new and probably serious feature to day to the dispute between the United States and Mexico in the case of Edward Blatt and Lawrence Converse, Americans held in jail at Juarez, Mexico. The state department demanded their release, asserting that they were arrested on American soil. The Mexican government replied that they were arrested in Mexico. Inquiry develops the fact that they were taken into custody on a strip of land which is in dispute.

They were captured near the Rio Grande river bed, opposite Guadalupe, Mexico, a few miles south of Juarez, where the ownership of the land has not yet been acted upon by the boundary commission. It is now

Albany, March 16.—The closing addresses in the Melbar trial were made today and it is expected that the woman's fate will be known before many hours.

The case went to the jury at 2:25.

CROWDS VISIT THE OHIO TRAIN

New London, O., March 16.—Despite bad weather, overflow crowds are visiting the agricultural train. A great demand is being made that the state help the state to get hired men. The section visited today has hundreds of neglected orchards and much interest was taken in the fruit display and the soil fertility talks of Prof. Thorne of the Ohio experiment station.

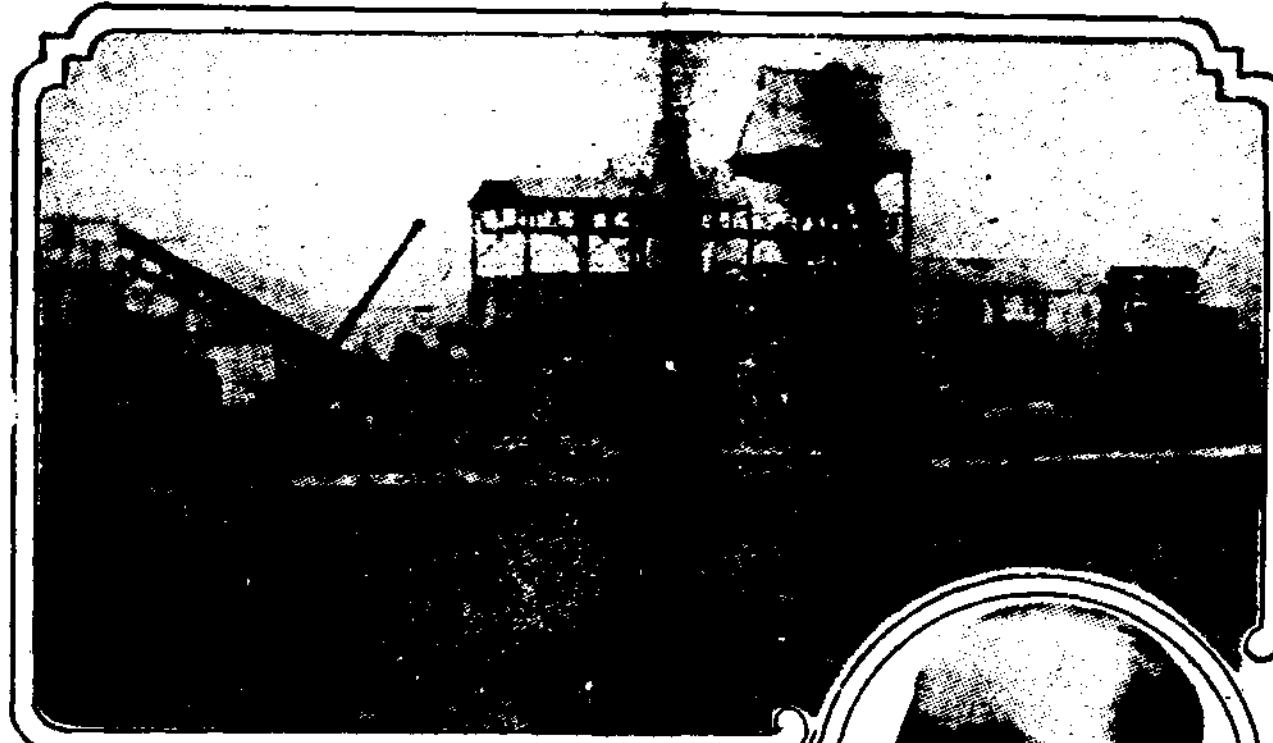

STILL STANDING PAT.

Albany, N. Y., March 16.—The fifteenth ballot for United States senator to succeed Depey was taken today with no change in lineup and both sides apparently determined to stand pat forever if necessary.

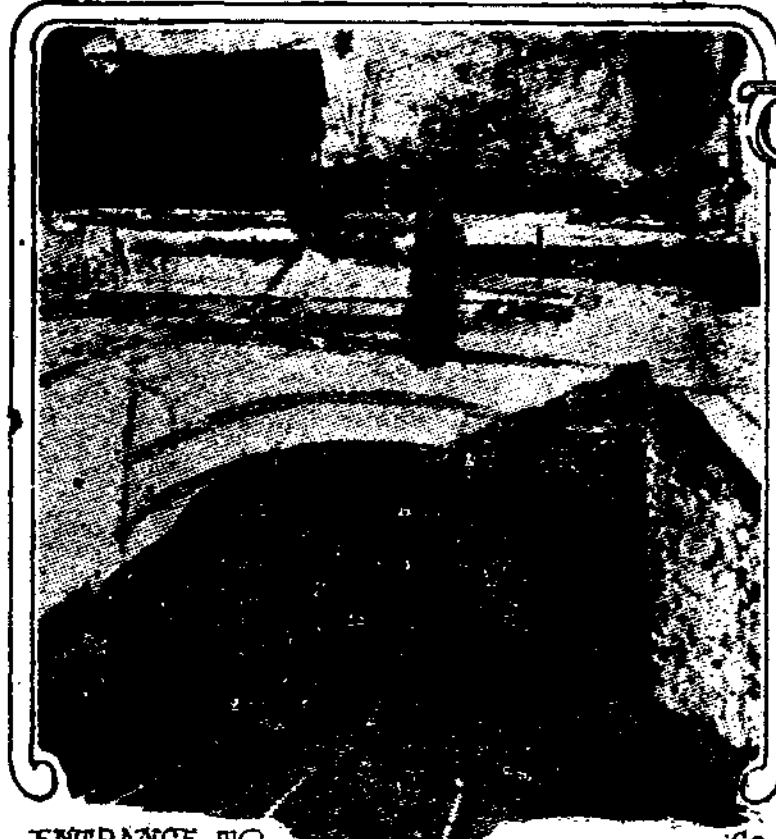

SCORES ANOTHER FOR WIRELESS

New York, March 16.—Wireless telegraphy scored another triumph today when a Russian name, Zogalowski, was taken from the steamer Zeltin charged with a quadruple murder in Russia. Otto Busdorff, a German detective, chased Zogalowski across half Europe and trailed him on the steamer St. Louis, which for three days searched the seas by wireless for the Zeltin, finally locating it and Zogalowski at once arrested by the ship's officers.

FOURTEEN THOUSAND COAL MINERS IN THE OHIO DISTRICT IN OHIO AND WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA MAY QUIT MINES SOON

A MODERN COAL PLANT

ENTRANCE TO A SLOPE MINE

A group of about 14,000 coal miners in the Tuscarawas-Sherrods district in Ohio and mines owned by operators in the Ohio district in West Virginia and western Pennsylvania, will become effective Monday, failing settlement of differences by the operators, meanwhile.

This decision was announced by Tom L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

The announcement followed a meeting of the executive board of the international organization, which board alone is empowered to call such a strike. The strike was decided on in a meeting more than a week ago in Wheeling, in which miners' officers from the affected districts met. A meeting of the executive board was called at that time for Canton, but a delay was brought about and no meeting was held in that city, center of the strike district.

The strike is a sympathetic movement in an effort to end the six-month battle of 3,500 men in the Tuscarawas-Sherrods district to obtain wage raises to which the miners' union officers insist the operators agreed months ago, but which have not been put in effect.

ment. But the extremes met, as if in a common cause, and for 60 years the state has experienced the varied results.

The prohibition in the constitution did not operate to stop the sale of liquor, and there has scarcely been a session of the General Assembly since that year that has not had before it some measure looking to the further restriction, expansion, regulation or recognition of the traffic aimed at by the constitutional prohibition. "The most important of those that became laws, some to be later repealed, or amended by the General Assembly or declared unconstitutional by the Supreme court are given below.

Pond Law.—This law as enacted April 5, 1882, and provided a system of taxation graded in amount according to the location of the business, with the requirement of a bond for observance of certain provisions of the law, and providing penalties or fine and imprisonment or both for violation. The amounts of the tax were: One hundred dollars if not within one mile of a village, $150 if in a village of less than 2,000 population, $200 if in a village of over 2,000 and less than 10,000, $250 if in a city of 10,000, but below the first class, and $300 if in a city of the first class. The law was declared unconstitutional the same year by the Supreme court, which ruled that because of the requirement of a bond for observance of the law was in effect a license, which the constitution forbids.

Scott Law.—The next General Assembly, on April 17, 1883, enacted the Scott Law, which took its name from the member who presented the bill. It

SEVEN DROWNED WHEN FISHING SMACK SINKS DURING LAKE ERIE GALE

Boat Had Almost Reached the Shelter of Cleveland Harbor When Dashed Against the Breakwater

FOUR BODIES RECOVERED UP UNTIL NINE O'CLOCK

Vessel Was One of 35 Fish Tugs Which Started Out in the Morning to Set Nets---Burned Torches as Signals of Distress---Unconscious Boy Found Floating on the Ice.

Cleveland, O., March 16.—Eight men are dead and several missing as a result of last night's gale on Lake Erie. Seven drowned when the fishing tug Silver Spray sank off the local breakwater last night. Charles Cripps of Cleveland was swept off the tug Erie B, and the tug Swan is missing. The victims of the Silver Spray were Capt. James Purdy of Erie, Engineer Robert Watts of Erie, Ed. Holmes, Chas. Brasso and Henry Anderson of Cleveland, and Thomas Reed of Erie. Besides there were on board six other men whose names have not been learned.

The Silver Spray had almost reached the shelter of Cleveland harbor when a twenty-foot wave dashed her against the outer breakwater and she quickly sank. At 9 o'clock this morning four bodies had been recovered and an unconscious boy nearly frozen to death was found floating on the ice.

The Silver Spray went down before any assistance could be given by boats in the harbor.

Captain Hansen, of the life-saving crew, who with his family lives at the station on the pier, saw the tug, which was just outside the harbor, burning a torch.

Hansen called upon the fish tug men and the fire department to send either a fish tug or a fire tug to the boat's aid, but before the rescue was even attempted the torch disappeared and then nothing could be seen of the tug.

At midnight the fire tug Farley was sent out from the harbor, and the only hope is that some survivors of the boat may be found clinging to the ice or to a life raft.

The Silver Spray first was missed late yesterday afternoon, when 33 of the 35 fish tugs which went out in the morning to set nets returned to the harbor unable to battle with the howling gale.

Word was sent all along the south shore of the lake in the hope that the missing tug and the Sisco could be sighted. The Sisco was seen off Sandusky, and it was declared at Avon Point that another tug, supposed to be the Silver Spray, had been sighted off there when showing distress signals.

In his tower at the life saving station Captain Hansen kept a close watch on the lake, and finally at 8 o'clock observed a light about five miles from shore. Then he could see a tug fighting the waves and evidently attempting to make the harbor entrance.

The forty-mile-an-hour gale rolled the waves high, and at times sight of the boat was lost.

The captain notified the Buckeye Fish company, which owns the Silver Spray, of his discovery. From his description of the boat, which, by that time, had gotten within half a mile of the harbor entrance, the vesselmen felt sure it was the Silver Spray. An effort was made to find a crew to take out one of the bigger fish tugs and attempt a rescue. A crew could not be found.

Then Captain Hansen called upon Chief Wallace, of the fire department, to send out the fire tug Farley.

While the chief hesitated to send the tug into the gale, which would have tried the mettle of a stancher craft, he finally gave the order. Just as the tug at midnight got to the lifesaving station to take Captain Hansen on board, the captain told of the disappearance of the vessel in distress. The trip was then made in the hope of picking up some of the survivors.

"When I first sighted the boat," said Captain Hansen, "she was about five miles out, and was rolling in the rough of the sea some of the time as if she had become unmanageable. However that may be, she gradually drew nearer the harbor entrance and the captain evidently thought he could get in.

"From the time I first saw her they were burning torches aboard as signals of distress. Later the torches gave out and I could see men burning pieces of waste. That was when she was within half a mile of the harbor entrance.

"On account of the terrible seas and fierce wind they dared not get closer to the breakwater for fear of being caught in the cross current that exists there and being dashed against the breakwater. After I had called the fire tug and while I was waiting for it to appear I saw the light disappear. Then I knew it was all up with the boat."

This afternoon a piece of wreckage from the Silver Spray was picked up in the harbor. A message evidently written by Captain Purdy read:

"Goodbye to Hattie. We are now going on the break water. James Purdy."

Safe and Sane Fourth Puts Works Out of Business

New York, March 16.—Safe and sane fourth campaigns have so cut off the demand for firecrackers and fireworks that a majority of the stockholders in the Paine Manufacturing company applied on this ground to the supreme court today for permission to dissolve the corporation, one of the largest and best known fireworks concerns in the country.

MORE SALOON REGULATION AND LIMIT

Columbus, March 16.—In the senate yesterday Senator Dean's regulation bill, limiting the number of saloons in each community where liquor is permitted to be sold, was reported by the temperance committee.

This measure is supported by the liberal interests, but is opposed by the Anti-Saloon League leaders, who profess to see in it a device to protect "speak-easy" saloons. This vehemently denied by the bill's supporters, who make the showing that "speak-easies" only have existence in "dry" towns.

GOVERNOR HARMON EXPECTS SUPPORT FROM LEGISLATURE

Columbus, March 16.—N. D. Cochran, editor of the Toledo News Bee, today sent a story on the present Ohio legislative situation to his paper in which he says there is now a better understanding between the legislative and executive branches than at any period previously. Harmon and Nichols have been laboring hard, if quietly, and results are beginning to show. Much factional bitterness has spent its force and Harmon expects unanimous support from the Democrats to redeem the party pledges and enact progressive legislation. It is predicted that the fate of the Stockwell Oregon plan bill will not be repeated and the house bill corresponding to the Stockwell senate bill will become a law if the latter fails.

Woman's Power

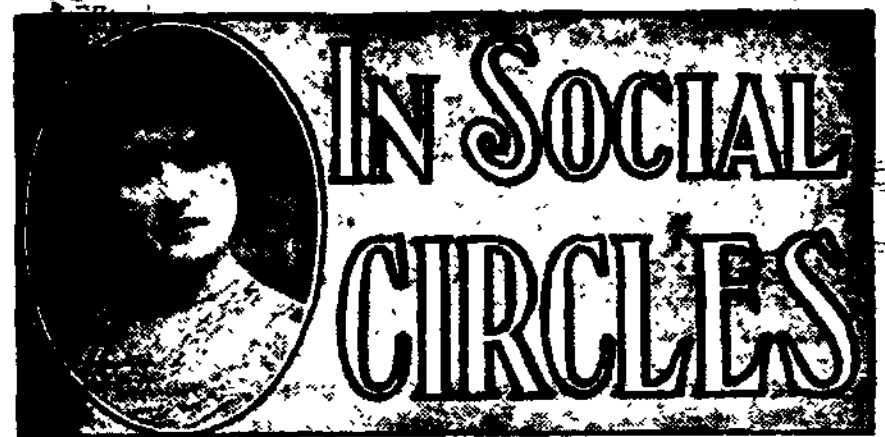

Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. K. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for woman's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and builds. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

Heart and Home Talks

Is This Husband Selfish?

A WOMAN friend is struggling with a perplexing problem. Her husband is a young architect. Socially, they have many pleasant doors open to them. But their income as yet is very modest, too modest to admit of much unnecessary expense. The husband, of course, can go about since it costs him little. One dress suit in fact will see him through the season. But if she goes it means considerable outlay for clothes alone. This they simply cannot afford. It means much to the husband in a business way to accept these invitations. He meets people that bring him orders. But should he go and the wife stay at home? Is he selfish in wanting to go? Is she selfish in wanting him to stay at home?

The wife certainly cannot go into the society to which they are invited without a certain number of pretty toilettes. But perhaps she overestimates the variety and costliness required for these. A woman can by her charm, her wit, or her intellect be superior to her dress. Perhaps this wife can cultivate a personality that will be so attractive that dress will play no part whatever in her social career. Then, too, it is time women took a stand against the extravagant dress of today. The woman who did it would find more rallying to her support than she dreams of. If, however, this plan is beyond this wife's powers, is there no way by which she can earn some money for dress? Here again, she is apt to run up against a snag of convention. But some of these snags need pulling up by the root and casting into outer darkness. It is supposed to reflect upon the husband for a wife to earn money, or it is supposed to imply that they are hard up. This is all rubbish. If a woman has time and ability to earn money, if the home will be more comfortable and happy because she does earn it, let her go to work if she wants to, instead of being a burden upon her husband's back. So here are two ways to get around this dress problem.

The husband is only human. If he goes out into the world and she doesn't, there may no harm come from it; and then again, there may. He may come back from his little journeys into the world appreciating and loving his wife all the more. He may drift away from her. This possibility must be faced. It is a thing that has happened to many a couple when neither ever anticipated it at the start.

But on the other hand, if he stays home unwillingly and is moody and discontented, if he feels he cannot achieve his ambitions because his wife holds him back, this too will make a breach.

What are the realities of their married life, the fundamentals, so to speak? Are they not love and contentment and happiness in each other? How will these best be furthered? Will all the social success in the world make up for a broken home? Will all the business this man can get repay him if he drifts out of the reach of his wife's love? It is these things they should keep in mind, and their love for each other. And if they cling tightly to their love for each other, this will solve the problem.

If they love each other enough, both will sacrifice some. He will decline some invitations that she may not be left lonely at home night after night. If he accepts this social life solely for the business it may bring him, he can accept invitations that in this way are important, but decline others. If he accepts them for any other reason, he is selfish, and he is on a dangerous road. He needs to examine himself unsparingly to see whether he is going.

If she cannot solve the problem of dress satisfactorily and must stay home, let her do it cheerfully. Let her send him forth on his quest for business—as did the maidens of olden days when they armed their favors to the armor of their knights. And instead of sitting home in the depths of the blues let her utilize this time to keep herself up to date in every way. So that when he returns he finds her as sparkling and interesting as any woman he has met into the social realms in which he has been wandering, and in addition he knows she loves him with a love that makes him first in her life.

If they solve the problem together in this way, surely they will walk forward together to a happy future. It means some self-sacrifice on the part of each, but nothing knits a husband and wife together so much as sacrificing together; and few things cause so much bitterness as for one to yield all and the other nothing. He need not fear that business will come, though should it never come, he will be happier than if he gains business and loses his wife. And the other road, unless he is an exceptional man, is apt to lead to this, for he will drift away from her. Nor is it fair to her. Nor is it developing his best manhood. To do the weak and selfish thing does not make for strength of character.

LIBRARY LOANS

The Library Loan Exhibit closed in a blaze of glory in the building formerly used by the M. E. church on Wednesday evening. The bad weather held the numbers who would have attended down somewhat but the District School proved an attractive drawing card.

At an early hour this morning a small army of exhibitors was on hand intent on the immediate removal of the curios and souvenirs exhibited and by noon the display had been pretty thoroughly devastated. The aim of the committee having in charge the exhibit was to raise at least $1,000 for the benefit of the public library, but judging from the present proceeds which are in the amount will probably be short a couple hundred dollars.

The executive committee wishes all clubs and organizations having tickets to make an immediate report on them to the library as they desire to close up the financial part of the work. The money will be used for the fitting of the library and the procuring of some of its immediate needs.

Danderine

and we can PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes:
"As a result of using Danderine, my hair is close to five feet in length."

Beautiful Hair At Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grows, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp is where the hair grows, must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment; when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions).

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Knowledge of Danderine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair, scalp and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp.

It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One 2-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself.

ing. He also leaves a mother, Mrs. Nancy Shaffer, two sisters, Mrs. Jacob Thompson and Mrs. Joseph Rittenhouse, and three brothers, John, Joseph and Grover Nichols, besides a host of friends; but our loss is his eternal gain; while he will be sadly missed, a chair will be vacant that never can be filled, yet we would not call him back, for his sufferings are over, and we feel that he is at rest. The boat has just anchored on the other shore, where he will be watching and waiting for loved ones.

'Tis hard to break the slender cords That once has bound the heart.
'Tis hard, so hard, to speak the word We must forever part.
Heaven now retains our treasure,
Earth his lonely casket keeps,
And the sunbeams love to linger
Where our dearest loved one sleeps.

Day by day we saw him falling
As the winter days went by.
On the world grew dark and lonely
When we learned that he must die.

Death comes when least we think,
And takes our loved ones from us.
And weeping for him, sad and lone,
We gather strength to walk alone.

But we'll put our trust in Jesus,
Hoping thus through his command
We may meet in happy union,
In that house not made with hands.

Yet again we hope to meet thee,
When the sorrows of life have fled.
There with joy we hope to greet thee,
Where no farewell tears are shed.

He is dead! His sufferings are over,
And with the eye of faith
We see him standing on the Golden shore.

Clothed in garments pure and white,
With his Savior he shall reign,
Where there are no clouds of sorrow,
No sickness and no pain.

Darling wife, dearest mother,
Loving sisters and dear brothers,
We know 'tis hard to say farewell,
But put your trust in Christ, your Savior,

Who doeth all things well.
—By his Loving Wife and Friends.

CARD OF THANKS.

I extend my heartfelt thanks to our friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted in the darkest hours of our sorrow through the sickness and death of my beloved husband, Thomas Nichols, and I also want to thank the choir, and also Brother Ward and Brother Byers for the kind words of consolation and also the friends for the beautiful floral offerings. His Wife, Susie Nichols.

PROBLEM TO BE INVESTIGATED BY CIVIL ENGINEERS

The committee appointed at the last meeting of the South Side Business Men's Association to arrange for the employment of a competent engineer to prepare plans and estimates of cost for subways or other methods of eliminating grade crossings in Newark, reported last night that they had seen City Engineer Metcalf and assistant of Columbus and were shown by these gentlemen the work along this line that had been done in that city, and had arranged with them to visit Newark next Wednesday or Thursday to look over the situation here, with a view to a solution of the problem.

Plans will be secured and the matter put up to the city council and others interested in the proper way when the time comes.

The meeting last night was very enthusiastic and work will progress for the accomplishment of the Association's objects without undue delay. The next meeting will be held Thursday evening, March 30.

Pittsburg—An agent has been canvassing this territory with large brilliant gold fish cheap. The brilliance lasts about three days. The fish are gilded brook suckers.

Indianapolis—Frank Tiemeyer is seeking for a man with an "honest" face who asked him for ten cents for a bed last night. Tiemeyer gave him $5, asking that he bring back the change. He did.—NOT.

General Court News.

The following named persons were admitted to citizenship late Wednesday afternoon, in addition to those whose names have been published: Albert Tomlinson, Barney Susi and Frank Delmonico.

The case of Joseph Herman was taken under advisement. He appeared with the proper number of witnesses, who qualified, but Herman, in answer to a question by the court as to what he did for a living, stated: "Well, I work at the B. & O. shops and any damned thing."

The court censured him for using such language, and in answer to a further question as to whether, if he were admitted to citizenship, he thought he could refrain from using such language in the presence of a court, stated that he thought that he couldn't. The court stated that he would consider the application to admit him to citizenship. The applicant subsequently appeared before the court and apologized for his language and was admitted to citizenship.

In the case of Wm. H. Mead Jr. vs. Jane Brown et al., at the conclusion of the evidence on behalf of plaintiff, the court sustained a motion to direct a verdict for defendants. The plaintiff brought suit to recover premiums on fire insurance policies. A motion for a new trial was filed and overruled.

The January term petit jury, after receiving the thanks of the court for their attention and promptness in the discharge of their duties, were discharged.

$10,000 Damage Suit.
Florence Colvin vs. the Columbus, Newark & Zanesville Electric Railway Co., for money was a new suit filed today in common pleas court by Attorney Gates for the plaintiff. The petition recites that the plaintiff entered an interurban car in this city Jan. 14, 1906, for the purpose of taking a seven-mile journey on the line of the defendant company to Colvin's Station. At Dillon's Falls the car stopped and while at a standstill another interurban crashed into it at full speed, throwing the plaintiff back into her seat and injuring her neck and spine, causing permanent traumatic neurasthenia, from which she has never recovered. Further, the petition recites that a similar action to this was brought in January, 1910, but the service of summons was quashed on the petition of the defendant. Wherefore Florence Colvin claims $10,000 judgment.—Zanesville Courier.

Files Answer.
In the case of the Newark Telephone Company against the Newark & Granville Electric Railway Company, in which the telephone company sues for damages for injuries caused to its Granville plant by the burning out of the same, the defendant company, by its attorneys, Fitzgibbon & Montgomery, has filed its answer. It denies any liability to the plaintiff and says that the plaintiff contributed to the injury, if any was sustained, by placing its wires close to the feed wires of defendant company long after defendant company had installed its appliances, and thereby contributed to the injury.

OBITUARY

MRS. MARY B. REESE.

Another of the pioneers of Newark and Licking county has been called to her reward, when the final summons came to Mrs. Mary B. Reese, at her home, No. 77 Chestnut street, at 10:25 o'clock Wednesday evening, after only a week's illness with pneumonia, at the advanced age of 86 years and two months.

The deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Jenkins and was born in London, Eng., Jan. 14, 1825. When 16 years of age she came to this country with her parents, after a voyage across the Atlantic of nine weeks' duration. The Jenkins family emigrated to Ohio soon after this, coming by way of the Great Lakes to Cleveland, thence to Licking county in a boat on the Ohio Canal, making settlement in the Welsh Hills northwest of Newark.

In 1846 she was married to Thomas B. Reese and to them seven children came to bless the union, two of whom are living, William Reese of Amrillo, Texas, and George A. Reese of Granville. The following grandchildren are also living: Jesse, Benjamin, Elmer and Walter Reese of this city; Dr. Elroy Reese of Toledo, and Mrs. Mabel Hilton of Wheeling, West Virginia. A sister, Mrs. Richard Williams, and Mrs. Mary Thomas, of Granville, a daughter of Thomas B. Reese, are also left to mourn her loss. The interment will be made at the Sharon Valley cemetery, but the funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

The deceased was in many respects a most remarkable woman, and for one of her age, kept possession of all her faculties to a degree that was the marvel of all who knew her. Until stricken with the illness that proved her last, she had always enjoyed good health, and delight in recalling incidents and scenes of the long ago, for which her memory was almost infallible. She always lived the life of a devoted follower of Jesus Christ, and with a sublime faith in him, she laid aside the duties of this present life to enjoy the beauties of an immortality for which she was so well prepared to enjoy. Her church connection was with the First Congregational of Newark, and to this she was ever faithful and consistent.

Word was received from the son in Texas, who will be home to attend the funeral, which will probably be held Sunday afternoon.

FUNERAL OF JOHN WATSON.

Short funeral services for the late John Watson will be held at the home on South Second street at ten o'clock Friday morning and at the new M. E. church at 10:30.

FUNERAL OF MISS STEVENS.

The funeral of Miss Stevens, who died at her parents' home in Linnville, will take place Friday afternoon, leaving the house at 1 o'clock, sun time, the services at Fairmount church and interment in that cemetery. Rev. M. R. Lamp will conduct the services.

FUNERAL OF DR. ALEXANDER.

The funeral of Dr. J. W. Alexander will be held at the new M. E. church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. L. C. Sparks and Rev. G. W. Applegate. The interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

SAMUEL J. WATSON.

A very sad death occurred at 11 o'clock Thursday morning at the City Hospital, when Samuel J. Watson, aged 59 years, passed away after an illness of only three days. Yesterday his brother, John Watson, died at the Newark House, and the shock of this was probably the indirect cause of death, which is given as neuralgia of the heart.

The deceased was born in Ireland and leaves a wife and two sons, Arthur of Indiana, and Frederick of North Newark, and one sister, Mrs. Henthorn of Alexandria.

For the past several months Mr. Watson had been employed at the hospital and at all times was faithful in the performance of his duties. No funeral arrangements have as yet been made.

THOMAS T. NICHOLS.

Thomas Thurman Nichols, son of Benton and Nancy Nichols, was born April 30, 1871, died March 12, 1911, aged 39 years, 10 months and 13 days. He united with the Disciple church at Rocky Fork in 1897 and died with the firm belief that God doeth all things well. He had been a sufferer for some time with a complication of diseases and when his Savior called him from his bed of suffering he was ready to go. 'Tis hard to give him up, but we must submit to his will who never makes a mistake and doeth all things well. Loved ones stood by him in his last moments and saw him pass peacefully to God who has prepared a place for us all. He leaves to mourn a heart-broken, loving, devoted wife, Mrs. Susan Nichols, to whom he was married May 16, 1896, and who tirelessly stood by him through all of the weeks of his pain and suffer-

ON THE CELEBRATED

New Process Gas Ranges

Recently we arranged with several of the large manufacturers of which we are exclusive agents for Newark and surrounding territory to furnish us with a series of Practical Demonstrations of the line of goods they manufacture, in order that our trade might become thoroughly acquainted in every detail with the class and quality of goods which we are offering, and the first of these demonstrations will be conducted on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, showing the New Visible, "New Process" Gas Ranges.

NEW PROCESS GAS RANGES are made in a great variety of styles and sizes to meet the demands of the most exacting housekeeper. The policy of the manufacturers of THIS CELEBRATED LINE OF GAS RANGES has always been to see "HOW GOOD" and NOT HOW CHEAP A Gas Range could be made and the Universal Popularity of the "New Process" line is the best possible evidence that these stoves are made right in every respect. NEW PROCESS VISIBLE GAS RANGES gives quicker results and can be operated at 1-3 LESS EXPENSE than any other range.

WE WANT EVERY HOUSEKEEPER IN NEWARK AND VICINITY TO SEE THIS DEMONSTRATION IF POSSIBLE—WHETHER YOU ARE NEEDING A NEW GAS RANGE OR NOT—IT WILL BE TIME WELL SPENT AND YOU CAN NOT HELP BUT OBTAIN A NUMBER OF GOOD POINTERS ON THE PROPER OPERATION OF A GAS RANGE.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—The Unadulterated Son

ONE evening daddy began his bedtime story for Jack and Evelyn by saying: "Evelyn, you and Brother Jack are very good children now. I know, and you have always been good. But I wonder whether you will treat me when I am old as the young man in the story I am going to tell you treated his poor old father?"

"We'll always be good to you, daddy," said Evelyn. And she and Jack gave daddy two of the great big "bear hugs" which daddy says remind him of the grizzly bear in the zoo. So daddy smiled and began his story as follows:

"There was once a young man who had a wife and a young son. With him he had living his old father, who had become so aged that he could no longer do things for himself as he had been accustomed to do all his long life. He had to be attended and fed almost like a young child. When this old man had been young he had worked hard for his family, and he deserved all that they could do for him. But the son with whom he lived and the wife of the young man did not like to wait on the poor old man. They thought it was too much trouble to see that he had his meals regularly, and they often grumbled about what they called his carelessness in eating. You see, he was quite old, and his hand was not strong or steady and slipped often, spilling some of his food or dropping the china dishes and breaking them. One day the young man said:

"Father, I cannot pay for all the dishes which you break. Hereafter you must eat out of this wooden bowl." And he gave the poor old man a wooden bowl very rudely cut out of a block of wood. It was not nice looking.

"As I have told you, the young man had himself a young son. This boy was a sharp, observing little fellow, who noticed how his father treated his grandfather. He did not say anything at the time, but he sat down and seemed to be thinking deeply. A few days afterward he got two pieces of wood and began carving at them with his knife. When his father and mother saw him doing this they asked him what he was about.

"Oh," he answered, "I am beginning to work now to cut out two troughs for you two to eat out of when you are old and weak, as grandpa is now."

"When the man and his wife heard this they became ashamed of themselves. It hurt them to think that their son had noticed their bad conduct. They went to the old man and took away the wooden trough, saying:

"We are sorry, father, for what we have done. Hereafter you shall eat from the best china we have, and we shall not be impatient with you."

How to Have the Best Cough Syrup and Save $2. by Making It at Home.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large quantity of plain syrup. If you take one pint of granulated sugar, add to it a pint of warm water, and stir about 2 minutes, you have as good syrup as money could buy.

If you will then put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup, you will have as much good syrup as you could buy ready-made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly.

And you will find it the best cough syrup you ever used—even in whooping cough. You can feel it take hold—usually stops the most severe cough in 24 hours. It is just laxative enough, has a good tonic effect and taste is pleasant. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

It is a splendid remedy, too, for hoarseness, asthma, chest pains, etc. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and all the healing pine elements. No other preparation will work in this formula.

This recipe for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup is now used and prized in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. The plan has often been imitated but never successfully.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

COMPANY G TO BE PLACED ON WAR FOOTING

The Army presented the stirring scenes of war on Wednesday afternoon and evening, when the boys of Company G, Fourth regiment, Ohio National Guard, underwent the annual federal inspection at the hands of a United States army officer.

The state troops all over the state are being inspected just now and the home soldiers are at their best. The inspection that is being made at this time, however, is more severe and rigid than ever before on account of the present situation and the movement of United States troops.

Wednesday afternoon and Wednesday night Captain Kilburn, of the Twenty-sixth United States Infantry, was the inspecting officer and 50 percent of the full strength of the company turned out and was inspected under active service conditions and full field equipment. The tent section is spread out, the blanket spread upon it, the tick on the blanket, and the other articles properly placed, after which the whole is rolled into a compact form about five or six inches in diameter by about four feet long and fastened by straps buckled around it at four points. It is then fastened into the shape of a horseshoe and thrown over the shoulder when on the march. Everywhere over the armory floor were pairs of bunks arranged and rolling their camp outfits, which were later laid before the inspecting officer and unrolled, to show whether or not the kits contained the proper articles, and to show also that they had been properly arranged.

A new and suggestive feature of Captain Kilburn's visit was his orders to Captain Priest and written notes to make requisition immediately to place the company on a war footing. Among the questions asked by the captain was whether the officers of Company G had received orders from Washington through the adjutant general's department of Ohio to recruit the company to its full strength. When he was informed that they had not received such orders he informed them that they had been received at the adjutant general's office and should be received here in a short time.

It is the opinion in army circles that if any additional large number of troops should be called out that the guard will also be called out.

Think of the Taste—not the Price—when you order coffee

Order the Blend—the Flavor that suits your taste. Don't say to your grocer: "Send me a pound of your best 30 cent coffee"—or something like that. That is not the way to get the coffee you like. The only way to buy coffee that tastes delicious to you is to select the Blend that is prepared to suit your particular taste.

After years of experiment, we, who are the oldest house of coffee experts in the world, have proved there are five great coffee blends and we have put up five different Blends of Coffee to meet each of these five distinct tastes.

Below is a description of these five Blends and their flavors. The flavor you prefer may be our lowest priced Blend and may save you 10 to 20 cents on every pound of coffee you buy from now on—for remember, coffee prices are determined by Blend. The highest priced coffee suits only a certain proportion of tastes. Each of the Golden Sun Blends, from Karez to Mocha & Java, is uniformly Choice Coffee from plantations controlled by us so that next week's coffee will be precisely as good as this week's. The roasting and blending is done by experts of 25 years' experience. Every package of Golden Sun Coffee is air-tight, and hermetically sealed at the right moment after roasting, to keep for your taste all the rich, natural oil—the food of the coffee berry. Coffee kept in open bins or added by inexperienced peddlers loses its richness, purity and strength and has a flat, stale flavor that lasts for hours of your coffee drinking. Try this new way—the only sensible, logical way of selecting your coffee and see if it does not prove the best method of getting the kind of coffee you can call—delicious. Find the Taste that suits you—read our description and the package showing the name of the Blend. Give it to your grocer or telephone him. You will never order coffee in the old haphazard way again.

Here are the Five Great Blends—choose the one for your taste

Karez	Navarre	Bizardale	Vienna	Mocha & Java
Coffee of a keen, tangy, sparkling character.	For those who want a piquant, high-flavored coffee	Produces the soft, mellow, velvety cup of coffee	Rich, savory and aromatic in flavor and bouquet.	That distinct brew produced only by most expert blending of these famous grades.

NEW TIDE OF BRITISH FOR WESTERN CANADA

FIRST PARTY NOW EN ROUTE FROM ENGLAND TO READY-MADE FARM IN ALBERTA.

Calgary, March 15.—Another lot of thirty English farmers are on the ocean, according to cables from Liverpool, bound for new homes in western Canada, and the immigration movement is extending to the continental countries. The Britons in the first party of 1911 consist of 110 people who will take up farms in Sedgewick, Calmhill, Strathmore and Crossfield. They sailed March 10.

Recently Alexander Deuser, of Brussels, Belgium, investigated the irrigation tract east of this city and will undertake farming on a large scale. Reports from Norway, Sweden and Denmark show that, if it is decided to extend the "ready-made farm" system of the Canadian Pacific railway to the Scandinavian countries, a large number of emigrants of the best class will go immediately. Moving picture theatres in those countries have been displaying scenes of Canadian life, which have attracted wide attention. G. C. Robinson has just returned from Great Britain with a report that window displays of Canadian products in various cities are drawing crowds.

From the United States the immigration already has commenced with parties of farmers from Iowa, Ohio, Illinois and Kansas, all of whom are prospective settlers who intend to locate in the immense district covered by the irrigation project.

From France immigrants have been attracted by the success of a Frenchman, R. B. Bouché.

The new British settlers will be welcomed by those who came last year, and who now occupy the ready-made farms provided. There is now a flourishing English colony in the vicinity of Sedgewick all of whom have energetically taken up the breaking and improving of the land. This year they will have several thousand acres in crop, to which they will apply the close and careful methods which have made English farms yield a higher average per acre than the rule in Canada or the United States. Fourteen poultry farms in the vicinity of Strathmore will be taken by English colonists each of whom will have 50 acres of irrigated land. These farms have been allotted to expert breeders of poultry who have had a success in their line in Great Britain.

Contrary to what is last fall for the making of low a national "ready-made farm" for British settlers, and it is to these that the people now enroute are destined.

Americans are banding with Britons in the Golden Sedgewick and Crossfield districts. Last fall a carload went to each of these districts from the United States during one week, while at the same time thirty of British settlers arrived to settle in the vicinity of Sedgewick and they had bought three thousand acres. The Britons are not being outdone in enterprise by Americans, for some of the former brought plowing outfits and threshing outfits and are caring for not only their own land, but that of neighbors in many cases that of American settlers.

BANISH THOSE GRAY HAIRS! Kill the Dandruff Germs—Stop Hair Falling

PROFIT BY OTHERS' EXPERIENCE

Gray Hair Restored

My hair was getting quite gray and falling out rapidly and I was troubled with a terrible itching of the scalp. My head was full of dandruff, which fell upon my clothes and kept me continually brushing it off. While on a visit to Rochester I heard of your Sage and Sulphur for the hair. I got a bottle and used it. A few applications relieved the itching, my hair stopped falling out and gradually came back to its natural color. It is now a nice dark brown color, soft, glossy and pliable. Several of my friends want to use it, and I want to know what you will charge me for six bottles of it.

MISS E. A. ROSS, Sharon, Mercer Co., Pa.

Grow Hair on a Bald Head

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is fairly covered and keeps coming in thick. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

SHERIFF SLABAUGH TELLS OF HIS VISIT TO THE EVERGLADES

The Advocate has received a very interesting letter from Sheriff Frank Slabaugh, who has been in the Everglades of Florida for the past few days on business. Following is a brief outline of the letter which will interest his many friends in Newark and Licking county:

St. Lauderdale, Fla., March 12, '11

Editor Advocate:—There are about three thousand people here awaiting the distribution of this rich Everglade land, and town lots with frontage on the Atlantic ocean. Fort Lauderdale, where I am located, is loved to its utmost capacity and cannot accommodate the visitors. Every house and cottage has all it can do to entertain the people, and many take the trains to Miami, 27 miles below, Ft. Alexander, from a small village six months ago when it had but 157 votes, now has a population of 2,000, and is rapidly growing.

Forty-six states of the United States are represented here, besides the District of Columbia and Canada. The representatives here are some of the most prominent men of the east and west. Mr. Cook, a prominent attorney of Kansas City, and Mr. Wiley, a prominent attorney of North Carolina are some of the representative men of this assembly. It is no idle play, but a great business proposition which the Florida Fruit Cans company has brought here to distribute 10,000 acres of Everglade land.

Most people here are not speculators but men who are interested in making a winter home in the south, and have a business beside. The railway was overtaxed to bring these people, running three and four sections to a train, and all trains 16 and 20 hours late.

There has been no rain since last November and vegetation does not seem to be dried up. If it were in Licking county, Ohio, every particle of vegetation would be dried up. I was out on the Everglades today and find large acres of tomatoes, potatoes, beans, peas, etc.

I saw potatoes formed on vines which were as large as the fist and the potatoes had only been planted five weeks. The pea crop is gone, and was very profitable. This land is sure to be drained as it is in the hands of the state to drain it and they have contracted $2,000,000 worth of work and the money is in the state treasury and can be used for no other purpose. It seems strange to me unaccustomed to tropical climate, but as we were coming through the orange belt, when the train would stop, the passengers would get off by the score and the hostable southern ladies would invite us into the orange orchards and we would help ourselves. We see large fields of pine apples and other tropical fruits too numerous to mention. There is a fine climate here, and strange to say

I have not seen a stone marking the grave of any single person and have not seen a cemetery. I presume they have to shoot a man to start a cemetery.

iousness, chills. 25c at F. D. Hall's.

The Life Of The Wood

To whom shall we look to lengthen MAN'S life? To the doctors and scientists, who devote their days and nights to study of the human body and its needs.

To whom then shall we look to lengthen the life and beauty of wood and the many things made thereof? To men who have given years of study and practice to the treatment of wood surfaces.

Such men are we. For years we have met the exacting demands of furniture makers for finishes that combine iron wearing qualities with the most artistic and delicate non-fading colors.

Out of years of experience we evolved

SPARTAN STAIN

A practical wood finish for popular use. Apply it as you buy it, or employ a painter. The more practical he is, the higher will be his praise for it. BUY IT AND TRY IT. Our graining outfits make graining a delight both in the doing and the results.

A Paint Store Worth Seeing

If you're interested in paints, varnishes, fillers, stains, brushes and the many things needed by painters, paper hangers and interior decorators, you should get the habit of visiting our big Newark paint store.

SHINGLE STAINS—These may be had here in paste form and mixed to suit yourself. A pound makes a gallon. It's the most economical way to buy shingle stains. Ask us about this.

AURORA MIXED PAINTS—The best mixed paint made, both in yards of surface covered and years of service rendered per gallon.

Ask about "the stains mixed with brains."

between the two great powers to control the theatres of the world, and Newark is fortunate in having an opportunity to see the long struggle of Dr. Raymond and to hear that stirring composition of Pleros, "The Song of the South," so joyously rendered by the happy Aelina, to the infinite delight of the good old maestro, Luigi.

The Spendthrift.

"The Spendthrift," the Porter Emerson Browne play, which, as produced by Frederic Thompson, remained for five consecutive months at the Hudson theatre, New York, and will be seen here soon, is a drama that tells the story of the wreck of a family's happiness brought about by the divergence of thought and the different paths followed in the pursuit of happiness by a husband and wife. Edmund Bessie has the role of the husband and Miss Magrath that of the wife. Perfectly the same cast and production that appeared in New York for over two seasons.

The White Squadron.

Rarely is so great a production as "The White Squadron" the kind of play expected with a popular priced attraction, but with the Edward Doyle company, one does not know what to expect. For this company has led the grand march to the front rank of popularity in the past few years. And just as the company's offerings as the above has brought about the splendid results, "The White Squadron" is a beautiful, picturesque story and deals with a series of unusual incidents. "The White Squadron" will be presented by the Edward Doyle company at the Auditorium theatre next week.

Orpheum.

See that good old play at the popular Arcade theatre this week. Danny Willard and Swan in that comedy play entitled "All on the Bottom" is full of a clean comedy and very entertaining. Mr. Maurice Downey, who is the part of McGuire the Irishman, is very funny. Don't fail to see him. One of the great novelties of the season is that wonderful bird, "The Eagle," that is making every one talk about him. Be sure and see it. He is appearing with Jack Walcott. Troup of Australian Cockatoos. Just think of it, a bird thirty-four years old and really seems to possess human brains. Another very pleasing feature is the Keltner in a refined singing and dancing act. Princess Regina, the very pleasing little lady with the violin, is scoring a decided hit with her beautiful music. The Orpheum-scope has two very good films.

GREAT SOUTHERN THEATRE.

Bessie McCoy will be the attraction at the Great Southern theatre for two nights and a matinee, beginning Tuesday, March 21. She will be seen in Charles Dillingham's lively singing and dancing comedy, "The Echo," bringing the identical company that appeared with her so long at the Globe theatre, New York. Miss McCoy is probably the foremost of American dancers. She came into her greatest prominence when she created the role of the Yama Yama girl in the "Three Twins" about four years ago. Although this latter piece has been presented here, Miss McCoy has never seen here in her original part. In "The Echo" the young Dillingham star presents several new and original dancing specialties, the most interesting of which are a French fandango, a grotesque dance with John J. Scandell as a college bell-boy, and the "Grizzly Bear" number, in which she is so ably assisted by Arthur Hill, one of the best animal actors on the stage. Miss McCoy's excellent company numbers among its principals John E. Hazzard as the principal comedian; John J. Scandell, Edgar Halstead, Douglas Stevenson, George White and Ben Ryan, a dancing team; Mrs. Annie Yeamans, Georgie Drew Mendon, Grace King, Evelyn Carrington, the Dolly Sisters and Toots Paka, the Hawaiian, who presents the hula-hula to the accompaniment of an orchestra of her countrymen. "The Echo" is essentially a dancing show, for every member of the company, from Miss McCoy to the humblest member of the chorus, dances.

How would you like to number your friends by millions as Bucklen's Arnica Salve does? It's astounding cures in the past 40 years made them. It's the best salve in the world for sores, ulcers, eczema, burns, boils, scalds, cuts, corns, sore eyes, sprains, swellings, bruises, cold sores. Has no equal for piles. 25c at F. D. Hall's.

The Last Tribute

Abraham Lincoln in his Gettysburg address made immortal the men who fell. He paid an everlasting tribute to their memory. And You, you have Someone, passed now into Eternal Rest, whose memory you wish to perpetuate. But you will resort to other means than did Abraham Lincoln to do this. Perhaps you are considering the placing of a Memorial at the last Resting Place of a Loved One. If you are, you must in justice to this Sacred Memory select with the greatest care, the design, the material and the workmanship of this memorial.

There is beauty, durability and economy in every Memorial erected by us. We guarantee satisfaction.

On June 1, 1911, the Newark Monument Company moves into its new location in the building now being erected just across the East Main street bridge. On account of the risk in handling we wish to sell and erect before that time, all of our present stock of memorials. TO INSURE THEIR DISPOSAL WE PROPOSE TO SELL THEM AT ABSOLUTE COST.

Your inspection of this work will be appreciated.

Does Your Back Ache?

If you are a woman and you have this symptom get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound without delay. Backache seems an invention of the evil one, to try woman's souls. Only those who suffer this way can understand the wearing, ceaseless misery.

We ask all such women to read the following letter for proof that Mrs. Pinkham's medicine cures backache caused by woman's diseases.

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with female disorders, my health was very bad and I had a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal's victuals without my back nearly killing me, and I would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had sorrows on each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and am enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have the backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others you may publish it."—Mrs. Ollie Woodall, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made thousands of cures of such cases. You notice we say has cured thousands of cases. That means that we are telling you that it has done, not what we think it will do. We are stating facts, not guesses.

We challenge the world to name another remedy for woman's ills which has been so successful or received so many testimonials as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

POPULATION

OF RAVENNA, O., CALLED OUT EARLY TODAY TO FIGHT FLAMES.

Entire Business Section Threatened and Property Loss Will Reach Eighty Thousand Dollars.

Ravenna, O., March 16. — After five hours of fighting the fire department, aided by half the population of the town, early today gained control of flames which threatened the entire business district with destruction.

A quarter of the commercial section was swept by the fire and the loss reached near $80,000. The buildings and firms that suffered were:

Buildings Destroyed.
Empire Block, three-story frame; loss $20,000.

Merts & Riddle Block, two-story frame; loss $6,000.

Buildings Damaged.
Sontum Block, two-story brick; by water, $1000.

Second National Bank Block; windows broken by heat, $200.

Business Concerns Burned Out.
W. A. Case & Co., book store, $3000.

F. T. Chapman, shoes, $25,000.

Simon & Jordon, pool and billiards, $5000.

A. H. Goble, barber shop, $500.

Guy Weaver, barber shop, $800.

R. T. Lytle, drugs, $6000.

R. B. Carnahan, music store, $4000.

O. P. Sterra, law office, $300.

The fire broke out about 9 p. m. in the basement of the Chapman shoe store. It is supposed to have been caused by an overheated furnace. In a few minutes the Empire Block, one of the oldest buildings in town, was enveloped in flames.

W. T. Lytle, druggist, living with his wife and three children in apartments in the rear of his store, fled into the cold in scanty attire. They were sheltered by friends.

The flames were fanned to ferocity by a freezing gale sweeping the town. The volunteer fire department had a hard battle. The water froze on their helmets and coats until they became so heavy that the men had to cast them aside.

The crowd got buckets and stood guard against flying embers which fell on other buildings. The fireproof brick walls of the Second National Bank Building and the court house repelled the attack of the flames.

GOVERNMENT

up to the state departments to prove his positive statements that the men were "arrested at American soil."
Unless some business action is taken to force the men to surrender the men, it is probable that they will remain in jail indefinitely while the commission ponderously proceeds to pass upon the case. The men were charged with aiding the revolutionists.

Washington, March 16.—All railroad communication with the interior of Mexico will be cut off within twenty-four hours through the destruction of bridges according to the statement of the revolutionary junta here today. The announcement was contradictory of reports received by Southern Pacific officials at San Antonio. The revolutionists say the railroads failed to stop transporting federal troops when so ordered by Madero.

The junta issued a statement as follows:
"The report that revolutionary soldiers intended to dynamite the railroad tracks leading to the interior of Mexico is true. Such action is necessary in order to stop the sending of federal soldiers and supplies. The railroads have been warned time and again to stop carrying federal forces."

"They were told by Francisco Madero that if they stopped the revolutionists would not interfere with their traffic, but if they continued their rail and bridges would be dynamited. The railroads have paid no attention to these warnings and they must now suffer the consequences."

"The revolutionists have no desire to destroy private property but it is essential that they protect their interests."

El Paso, Texas, March 16.—General Navarro and Colonel Tamborel, commanding the federal troops in Juarez, today announced that no one had been killed as the result of the attempt of a band of insurgents to blow up the federal barracks in Juarez.

While the authorities deny it, reports continue to be circulated that a dozen federal soldiers were seriously injured. A large portion of the barracks was completely wrecked. Juarez had not yet recovered from its panic of last night when twilight dawned, despite Navarro's attempts to reassure the inhabitants. The suddenness of the explosion and the apparent ease with which the insurgents got into the city indicate that the federal troops guarding the town have not kept a close watch.

The explosion came shortly before 9 o'clock last evening. A band of insurgents crept into town along the railroad tracks and were not discovered until a terrific explosion rocked the whole city and blew a portion of the federal barracks, in the center of the city, high in the air. There was a wild panic throughout the city which Navarro was unable to check. Only by posting a heavy guard of soldiers on the international bridge did the authorities prevent a general evacuation of the city by its inhabitants.

Before the federal troops could be re-organized and rushed to the outskirts of the city all the insurgents but two had fled. These two were shot down and wounded by the federal and taken prisoners. It is expected that they will be summarily shot.

Douglas, Ariz., March 16.—All the United States troops stationed here and practically all the citizens of the town at daylight today were lined up along the border around Nigger Head mountain waiting for the battle which seemed imminent between the Mexican federal troops and the insurgents under General Blanco and Colonel Lopez.

Captain Johnson and Lieutenant Sterling, of the United States troops, scattered their men along the entire border to prevent any violation of neutrality by either side.

After maneuvering in the moonlight all night both Mexican armies seemed prepared for the engagement. The federal troops have practically deserted the town of Agua Prieta, massing practically their entire strength on the battle line. The crest of one of the foothills of the Nigger Head mountain separates the contending forces, neither having ventured at daylight to attempt an attack. The insurgents formed line near the crest of the hill and directly in front of their camp.

The scene of the coming battle is the identical spot where the same forces were engaged Sunday when General Blanco withdrew after a brief skirmish, designed "to feel out" the federal position.

From points of vantage on Nigger Head mountain the United States troops and citizens of Douglas had a fine view of the entire battlefield, both forces being in plain sight.

Who does not know of the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many as the cause of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature graying, than sage and sulphur, if properly prepared. The Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, put up an ideal preparation of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. It is sold by all leading druggists for 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the manufacturers upon receipt of order.

For sale and recommended by F. D. Hall, druggist.

INTERURBAN OFFICIALS, IN CITY YESTERDAY

It begins to look now as though the proposed new interurban station for Newark was to be a reality in the near future. A number of the head officials of the Ohio Electric Company were in the city Wednesday, looking over the situation. Among the officials who were here were: Dana Stevens, vice president, F. A. Healy, secretary-treasurer, G. A. Thompson, chief engineer, and F. J. Moore, superintendent of the eastern and central divisions of the road. While here they looked at several proposed locations, but nothing definite was decided on. The left Wednesday afternoon for Springfield.

THE APRIL OUTING.

The April Outing is a fishing number, both inspirational and practical. For the man who is eager to get out with his rod it will help to pass away the time before the season opens. Samuel G. Camp gives practical advice on "How to Fish a Trout Stream." Geo. M. Johnson covers possibilities of the small stream, in "Fishing the Bunacles." "The Stream That Always Laughs," by N. C. Adossides, is an alluring account of the author's experiences in a little-known region in North Carolina. The last two articles are illustrated with photographs and there are also four full-page photographs that show "When the Trout Are Rising."

"Cruising With the Yagans," by Charles Wellington Furlong, describes Mr. Furlong's recent exploring trip in Tierra del Fuego. In a modest way, Mr. Furlong tells of most exciting adventures in that "savage region."

"A Lost Paradise," by Charles Askins, is a delightful picture of old-time Southern hospitality as well as an accurate account of shooting conditions there before the war and at the present time.

Dillon Wallace continues his journey, "Saddle and Camp in the Rockies," and Mrs. Helen Dodd gives us the benefit of her experiences in "Garden and Field at Twin Flower." "Inoculating Ed" is an inspiration to campers, and "The White Nightmare" is another nature story by F. St. Mars, with illustrations by Charles Livingston Bull. David Buffum writes authoritatively of "Draft Horses in America."

"Jack Otto, Hero," is a true story of a man's courage. Much practical information is contained in "Motor Car's Spark of Life" and "New Ideas for Motor Boatsmen."

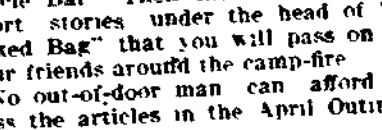

Fiction contains a new serial by Hubert Footner, "Bad Medicine," and another Western story by Charles Alden Seltzer, entitled "The Thief at Circle Bar." Then there are a lot of short stories, under the head of "A Mixed Bag," that you will pass on to your friends around the camp-fire.

No out-of-door man can afford to miss the articles in the April Outing.
